

WEDDING DVD PRODUCTION SPECIALIST

Memories in Motion

Blue Moon Productions was established in 2005 and is a leading specialist in producing high end wedding DVD productions. The company is very technology-driven and now offers alternative wedding products to engaged couples.

Weddings produced by Blue Moon takes on average 50 hours to be filmed and edited together. With the average production containing over 1,000 individual cuts.

Some of the specialised services offered include split screen, Bluetooth wedding phone clip, slow motion montage and 3D composed photographic effects.

The "Bluetooth wedding phone clip", offers couple's the option of watching back sequences of their wedding on their own mobile phone.

All production equipment is of broadcast calibre. To improve sound quality Radio microphones are used for the exchanging of the vows. Post Production is completed on Final Cut Pro a professional editing platform.

Blue Moon is based in Lisburn, Co. Antrim. The director of the company Gareth Landy holds a B.A. (Hons) in Media Production and Management and an HND in Television Operations and Production.

Some of Gareth's past experiences include Corporate and Health and Safety Training Programmes for clients such as Bank Of Ireland, Vodafone and GlaxoSmith Kline. Gareth also worked extensively on the production of the Dublin Port Tunnel programme and filmed U2 receiving the Freedom of the City award in Dublin.

"We were in two minds about whether to have a wedding DVD, as we were worried about having a cameraman following us around all day. I have to say that this was not the case at all. Gareth from Blue Moon Productions was professional, friendly and discreet. The quality of the editing work genuinely reflected the day and we now have lasting memories of the occasion. I would highly recommend this company to my family and friends".

"Gareth we have watched the DVD numerous times and are both moved by how fantastically you captured all the excitement, emotion and fun, there were some great laughs and a few tears too - all our treasured memories of our wedding to cherish forever. Our guests mentioned to us how highly impressed they were with how you glided through the crowd so unobtrusively, you captured moments that we didn't see happening on the day. Thank you for all the time and hard work you put into our wonderful unique wedding DVD, the professional, enthusiastic and fun style you have makes it seem so effortless".
