company profile

HIGH DEFINITION PRODUCTION COMPANY

Recordit! is a High Definition Production Company specialising in professional film making practice and techniques to deliver digital media content material online through the internet, 3G phone and ipod technologies, and via DVD & TV to:

- Businesses and Corporations
- Television Networks
- Music Industry
- Documentaries
- Education & Training organisations

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Businesses and corporations

Recordit! has produced various interactive DVDs providing company overviews & information, product descriptions & customer testimonials. All of these have been produced using the state of the art facilities and resources of the BrightRoom (www.thebrightroom.com) To deliver a corporate DVD the content of which is downloadable to phones, ipods and via web.

Television networks

Recordit! has recently entered the Television Broadcast environment and has produced Television Commercials for RTE & Setanta Sports.

Music Industry

Recordit! has developed the expertise to record live concerts, including broadcast filming and sound, pre & post interviews all of which can be edited into a commercial Music DVD for national & international sales.

Documentaries

Recordit! has carved a niche in producing documentaries for organisations wishing to record special events to document outcomes of special purpose funding or to promote themselves or a way of life.

Education & Training

Organisations involved in training and education are constantly seeking new and more imaginative ways of delivering their training & educational material. The production facilities and expertise available from Recordit! can provide a competitive edge in the presentation of training materials to those organisations.

PASSION STATEMENT

At Recordit! we are passionate about bringing the highest quality production techniques to our customers, whether its via TV, the Internet, through phones & ipods or an interactive DVD. We work with you and provide the Digital Content so you can communicate your products & services to the world.

Project Highlights

- An interactive DVD (customer Testimonials, product description etc)
- Video Content for web, phones & ipods.

Here's what our latest client recently said about us!

"Suffice to say that it is probably the most impressive piece of marketing material that we have ever produced and I would like to thank you for all your hard work in making it happen.

All of the footage, wording, images etc are top class and fit in perfectly with our target market. Recordit! has done a magnificent job in understanding the concept that we want to get across and has captured it in every piece of footage."
